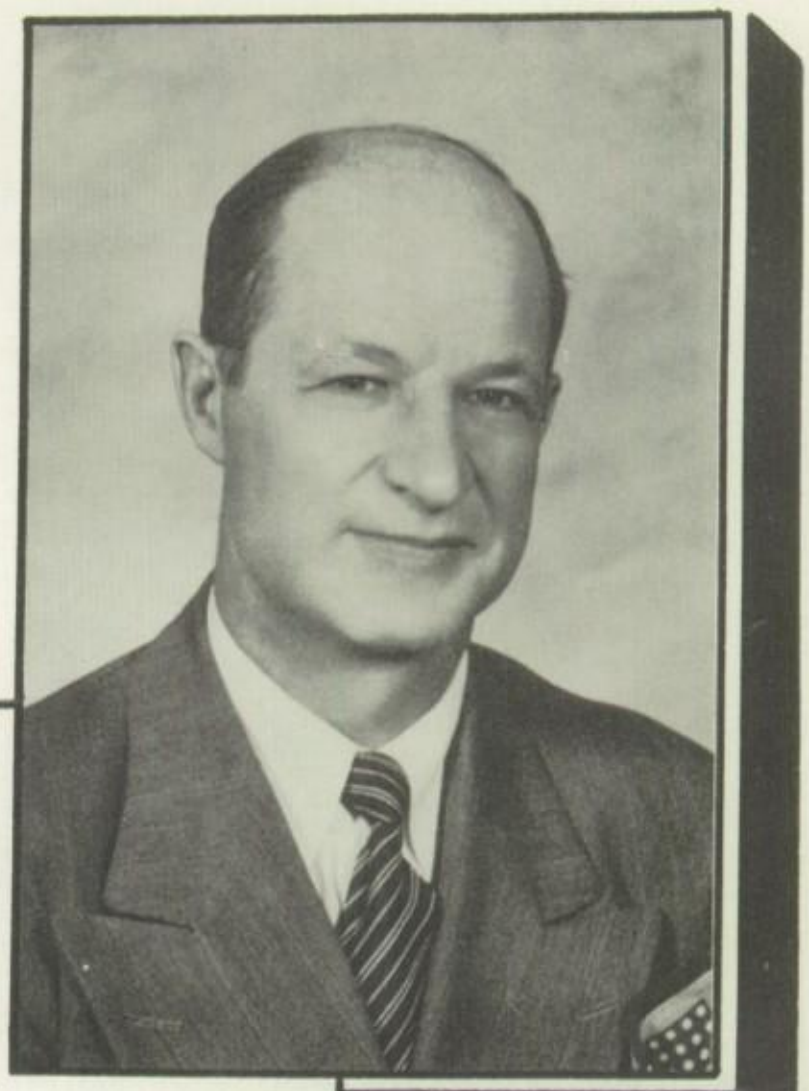
DEDICATION

We dedicate this yearbook to Magnor Peterson, whose twenty-two years of faithful service have endeared him to the hearts of faculty and students alike.

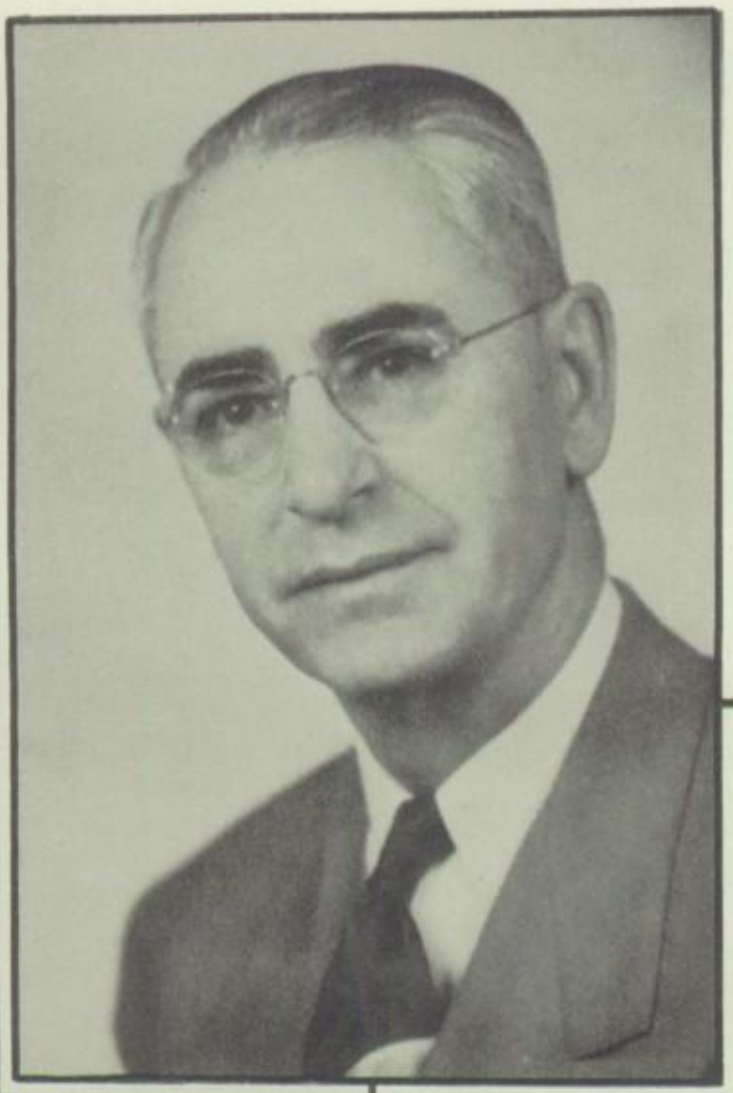


To the members of the Class of 1953 the Faculty of Havre High School wish a successful and fruitful life.

We hope that all of you have learned through your formal education and school life the great importance of working, participating and living together in our democratic society. May the fundamentals of learning that you have acquired as certified by your diploma now be continually broadened, reclassified and utilized for your successful living in an adult society.

ROBERT H. WYLIE.

Principal's Message



The chief goal of the Public School is to train young Americans for better citizenship. American citizenship requires training in tool subjects, wherein we learn certain skills by which we may earn a better living. This is, in itself, a worthy objective, but it is not enough to assure us that our American Way of Life, Our American Democracy, may be perpetuated and improved. We must learn to be better neighbors, better citizens of our Community, State, and Nation, with a high degree of loyalty and a willingness to work for the good of all. These qualities will insure our position of constructive leadership in the World.

Congratulations and best wishes to those of you who have worked together to make the 1953 Blue Pony a success.

WARREN E. STEGNER.

Senior History

CLASS OFFICERS
Myrtle, Dave, Pete, and Harvey

In the bright, flashy year of '49, we the class of 1953, were given a clean sweeping start into our first year of high school by the "think 'em all-mighty" seniors. They greeted us with stinging paddles, greasy lipstick, and the latest fashions from Paris—gunny sacks, wool stockings, fancy hair dos, and no shoes. We were taken on a safari to the "H" which was in sad need for repairs.

Our head sweepers for the year were President, Jack Brewer; Vice President, JoAnn Larson; Secretary-Treasurer, Evelyn Nivens. In student council, representatives to safeguard our interests were Joan Blazek, Evelyn Phillipi, Paul Enochson, and Jim Hinds. Throughout the first two years Miss Hoffman, Miss Hulm, Miss Rees, and Mr. Gunderson were our sponsors. Vivacious little Esther Ross was our cheerleader.

As the sophomore year rolled around, we began to feel a little older and a little more sophisticated. President Charles Vick led us through this year of growing up. His helpers were Vice President, Jim Hinds, and Secretary-Treasurer, Kinnie Thomas.

We were fortunate enough to have, at this early state, our first leaders in athletics and dramatics. JoAnn Larson, Robert Bailey, and Wayne Olson were initiated into Thespians in the spring of '51. Our athletes were the DonTignys, Paul Enochson, and Charles Leonard. Cheerleaders were Elaine Hall and Margaret Tietema. It was this year that JoAnn Larson won the "I Speak For Democracy" contest.

Our junior year! This busy year had many things in store for us. At the fall election of officers we chose Kinnison Thomas as president, Shirley Pfeifer as vice president, and Edith McMillan as secretary-treasurer. Student Council representatives were Jim McCauley, Pete Connole, Myrtle Flaskerud, and Edith McMillan. We put in regular petitions for dances and concessions during games to fill our bank account.

At a successful traditional Sadie Hawkins dance, Daisy Maes, Li'l Abners, and shmoos infested the gym. And of course the livestock, Donald and Daisy Duck and Charley Chicken danced to the music in their cages.

The next big event of this year was the Junior Prom. With the theme "Garden In The Rain" shades of green and pink enclosed the gym for an enchanted evening.

This Junior Class was well represented in the band and mixed chorus also. Evelyn Nivens and Wayne Olson participated in the all school play.

Several classmen were awarded trips. Pete Connole and Edith McMillan attended the Publication Pow Wow at Montana State University to prepare for positions on the Stampede the following year. Our Girls' State representatives were Yvette Anderson and Myrtle Flaskerud. Don MacKay, Howard Blue, Jim McCauley, Dave DonTigny, and Kinnison Thomas attended Boys' State. At a very entertaining assembly this group presented reports the fall of our senior year.

Senior History

Miss Slaaten replaced Miss Hoffman as one of our advisors this year.

In the spring elections, two of our top juniors, Kinnison Thomas and JoAnn Larson became student body president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

At last the final year came! We had our chance to do some initiating! We gave the freshmen the usual paint-up and dress-up job that we had once received. This unruly group of freshmen were tried and found guilty at a Kangaroo Court with Dave DonTigny as the presiding judge.

President Dave DonTigny, Vice President Pete Connole, Secretary Myrtle Flaskerud, and Treasurer Harvey Erickson led us in our plans for one of our big final events—The Senior Soiree! The theme, "Stairway to the Stars," brought blues and silver to a dimly lighted gym. After the social whirl subsided a bit, things began to calm down. Entering scholarship contests became a pastime for many seniors. Vivien Knudsvig was chosen by the senior class to receive the D. A. R. Citizenship Award. Roberta Lucke received first place in the Elks' Scholarship Contest.

Several seniors were lucky enough to go to Bellingham with the band. Mary Wells represented mixed choir in a five-state choir.

We seniors had several representatives during student government day. Charles Vick was city engineer, Shirley Underwood was clerk of the water department, Don DonTigny and Paul Enochson were aldermen, and Leo Sohm was fire chief assistant.

Our student council representatives for the year were Shirley Pfeifer, Frances Weyh, Jim McCauley, and Bill Greene. Alternates were Barbara Ryan, Pete Connole, Ann Marianni, and Leo Sohm.

In the field of football, Dave DonTigny was awarded All-State guard on defense by the Associated Press and given honorable mention on the Scholastic All-American team. Paul Enochson received honorable mention on the Wigwam Wisemen All-American team. Other lettermen were Charles Leonard, Bill Filler, Don DonTigny, Leo Sohm, Bert Unruth, Elmer Nelson, and Pete Connole.

In March, Seniors who had high scholarship, leadership, service, and character were initiated into the National Honor Society. Those honored were Kinnison Thomas, JoAnn Larson, Edith McMillan, Roberta Lucke, Myrtle Flaskerud, Rosemary Grams, Barbara Ryan, Evelyn Nivens, and Mary Wells.

At last the end of the four long years arrived. Senior week and Commencement will long be remembered by the Class of '53. It was with regret that we left our high school years behind us to enter new fields and make our place in the world.

Last Gasps

We the class of "53", saddened by the thought of our departure from these halls of memory, do hereby solemnly dedicate to our Alma Mater some traits and tidbits which shall forever prevent them from being as lowly as we.

I, Yvette Anderson—Leave still hating the communists.
I, Mary Lou Bailey—Leave my stuffed books to the neat ones.
I, Margie Black—Leave my younger sister.
I, Joan Blazek—Leave HHS to further my education as a grease-monkey.
I, Howard Blue—Leave warning to HHS wolves to keep their hands of a certain red head.
I, Tom Callaghan—Leave to continue my studies in refereeing.
I, Louella Campbell—Leave my stature to Rose Kibbee.
I, Virgil Campbell—Leave my quiet ways to Alan Alex.
I, Ralph Christofferson—Leave still burning shoe leather.
I, Pete Connole—Leave my sophisticated, well-mannered being to Gary Callaghan.
I, Dolores Cornella—Leave my earrings to anyone who can support them.
I, Florence Creamer—Bequeath my sparkling smile to Lynn Davidson.
I, Theresa DeLorme—Leave my reserved ways to Tom Wynne.
We, David and Don—Leave still blackmailing the faculty and students.
I, Bob Echelard—Leave my driving habits to Mr. McMillan.
I, Paul Enochson—Leave my football ability to Brad Holt.
I, James Erhart—Leave placing myself in the same class with Einstein.
I, Harvey Erickson—Leave my height to John Lawson.
I, Tony Filicetti—Leave Havre High for good.
I, Bill Filler—Go to raise my All-Star team.
I, Myrtle Flaskerud—Leave still wondering how to lower a car on a jack.
I, JoAnn Goligoski—Leave my marksmanship to Hammerknees. (In other words Joanie Moore.)
I, Rosemary Grams—Leave to join Wayne with Uncle Sam paying the way.
I, Bill Greene—Leave. my facial expression to Jan Kennedy.
I. Jerry Hayes—Leave———my little freshman.
I, Jim Hinds—Leave to have a big fling.
I, Betty Jean Irving—Leave with my long awaited engagement ring.
I, Vivien Knudsvig—Will my majorette hat to the twirler lucky enough to acquire it.
I, Maurice Landry—Leave my ability to clean diesel engines to Brooke Possenti.

Last Gasps

I, JoAnn Larson—Leave my extra film and photography troubles to Paul Bucalstein.

I, Chuck Leonard—Leave my title "screen door kid" to Dick Banks.

I, Carole Lindelow—Leave high school chasing college boys wondering what I'll chase in college.

I, Roberta Lucke—Leave my walk to anybody who can walk as far and fast as I did.

I, Fay Magnuson—Leave my writing ability to Neomia Waldrip.

I, Jim McCauley—Leave crawling through sewer pipes.

I, Marilyn McKinley—Leave my snow shovel to anyone else who is dumb enough to get stuck in grave yards.

I, Edith McMillan—Leave my father still in high school.

I, Ann Mariani—Leave with Bert by my side.

I, Besse Morran—Leave nothing to nobody because I'm taking it all with me.

I, Evelyn Nivens—Leave my title the "marrying kind" to JoAnn Kezar.

I, Wayne Olson—Sneek from the auditorium, slide down the stairs, squeeze through the door and slip away.

I, Shirley Pfeifer—Will my beautiful blonde hair to Jerry Roe.

I, Evelyn Philippi—Leave, still embarrassed by the name of "Pinky."

I, Tivolo Pomeroy—Leave still after a letter sweater like Bill Greene's.

I, Don Ratzloff—Leave my red flare technique to Kenny Livesay.

I, Barbara Ryan—Find Alaska attractive, not for gold but for diamonds.

I, Donna Smith—Leave HHS, but not Havre.

I, Maureen Smith—Leave the farm for city life.

I, Joseph Sohm—Leave my title the "Kleenex Kid" to Kenny Wattam.

I, LeRoy Strandberg—Regret leaving Havre High.

I, Mary Lou Street—Leave still being mistaken for an avenue.

I, Sandra Sturm—Leave my talkative ways to Sue Williams.

I, John Thomas—"The cycle kid," leave a clear path for Scotty Clark.

I, Kinnison Thomas—Leave my job, my trouble, my intelligence, etc. to any numbskull who wants them.

I, Jane Trexler—Leave not having to look for a man.

I, Kenneth Ulmer—Leave, PERIOD.

I, Shirley Underwood—Leave still being queen of the Arbangi tribe.

I, Bert Unruth—Leave ready to make a living.

I, Iris Velk—Leave my silly giggle to Carol Caldwell.

I, Charles Vick—Leave my American History technique to Pat Gillan.

I, Mary Wells—Leave on horse back. It's slow, but sure.

I, Frances Weyh—Leave with my dream come true.

Junior History

We, the "mighty" Junior Class elected Don Manuel president, Merrill Garrett vice president, and Phyllis Porter secretary-treasurer, to guide us through our third important year.

Our class was well represented in Havre High's student government body by Bob Gunderson as vice president of the Student Council and Louise Mangels as its secretary-treasurer. Junior advisory representatives on the council were Carol Caldwell, Marilyn Dickson, and Merrill Garrett.

For Havre's Student Government Day, Mayor Gary Dow was assisted by Karen May, Brooke Possenti, Dick Allison, Dick Wright, Jerry Roe, Leslie Pearson, Bernard Armstrong, Gary Callaghan, Gaylord Jacobson, Jenny Wingard, and Jackie Moore in some of the city's main offices.

Barbara Coday was the first junior to be initiated into Havre High's new chapter of Quill and Scroll.

Several juniors namely, Dick Wright, Gaylord Jacobson, Bob Gunderson, and Don Manuel made their letters in football. Dick, Gaylord, Ed Boucher and Ken Livesay were also on the Blue Pony basketball squad.

Flash!—word has just been received that four juniors (all girls!) were initiated into the National Honor Society. You guessed it!—Barbara Coday, Joan Griffin, Phyllis Porter, and Mary Travis.

Profits from basketball concessions, the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, and our class play, "Home Sweet Homicide," will be used for our Junior Prom. As the Blue Pony yearbook goes to press, we have just chosen our theme, "April In Paris," and the committees have begun their work in the hope of making it an outstanding prom.

Sophomore History

Our sophomore year will hold many pleasant memories for the class of '55. The class has accomplished much, thanks to our sponsors Miss Andrist, Mrs. Meagher, Miss Paugh, Mr. Huss, and of course the class officers who have worked so diligently.

Our officers were President Harold Friesen; Vice President Don Johnson; and Secretary-Treasurer, Bob Stansberry. In the Student Council we are represented by Sue Williams, Florence Kampf, Myrna Wright, and Bob Stansberry.

Ardy Hamilton, Florence Kampf and Rosemary Hatleberg, represented our class as cheerleaders.

In the field of sports, our class was represented by Harry Hyatt and Don Johnson in the Pony football lineup and by Jim Wilkins and Harry Hyatt both playing forward on the Pony basketball squad.

The Thespians claim Tim Robins and Pete Baker as members. Tim was in the winning play which went to Missoula for Interscholastic Week and received best actor award in the local contest.

We sophomores were quite busy this year with concessions and dances in order to make money to cover the expenses of our junior year.

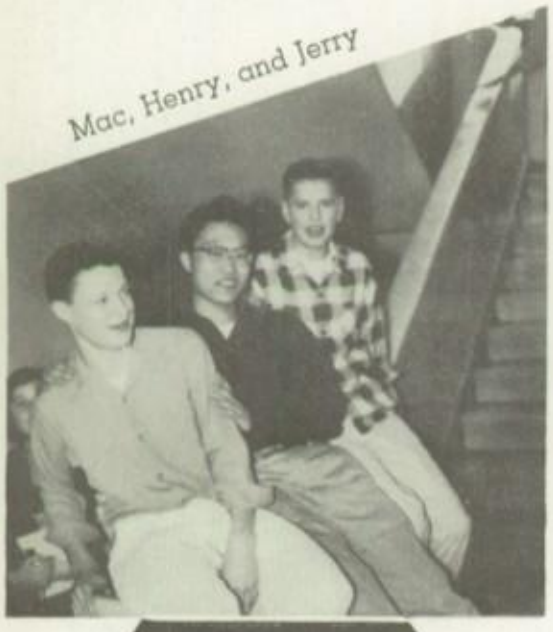
Freshman History

As usual, we freshmen were given the traditional initiation by the seniors, whose duty was to paint and dress us. We had the honor of building, cementing, and painting the "H" so the next year's freshmen would get off easy by just white-washing it. The afternoon classes were shortened. The seniors held a Kangaroo Court where we "took the consequences" by showing the student body how to jitterbug, polish the seniors' shoes, and scrub the auditorium floor with a tooth brush. That evening there was a dance to welcome the freshmen as full-fledged Havre High students.

The class of "56" then elected its officers; the outcome being, President, Mac Wylie; Vice President, Henry Hamaoka; Secretary-Treasurer, Jerry Elliot. Our student council representatives were Carole Sorenson, Louanne Snyder, Ellen Cool, and Ann Marie Gibson. Alternates were Carol Maberry, Kathy Langdon, Henry Hamaoka, Janice Jorgenson. Jeannete Hamblock was chosen cheerleader for the Colts and alternate for the Blue Ponies.



Mac, Henry, and Jerry

A few of our classmen, namely, Janice Jorgenson, Phil Eaves, Lynn Decker, Rayna Greene, and Steve Thomas with dramatic ability received parts in the one-act play festival.

This year we sponsored two dances and sold concessions at a basketball game. We were under the guidance of Mr. Ritter, Mr. Moon, Mr. Carlson, and Mr. Lawrence.

DOW AND OTHERS TAKE OVER CITY OF HAVRE ONE-HALF DAY

A short time after the national elections bumped and banged through the country, Havre high school decided it still hadn't had enough. Tus, in accordance with Student Government day, the school nominated candidates for mayor, city treasurer, police judge, and aldermen. Each class, that is senior, junior, sophomores, and freshmen, nominated candidates for city treasurer, police judge, and aldermen, but the nominations for mayor were restricted to upperclassmen.

Gary Dow was elected mayor, Brooke Possenti, city treasurer, and Pat Gillan, police judge. The aldermen were as follows: Paul Enochson, Don DonTigny, Dick Wright, Dick Allison, Jerry Roe, and Chuck Hauge.

Mayor Dow appointed the numerous other city officers, having some from each class.

1952 Grid Season

August 23 started football practice for the 1952 season. Thirty-three boys turned out for the Blue Pony squad.

In the opener of the season the Blue Ponies smashed the Fergus Eagles for their first victory. The following weekend the Ponies were downed by a fighting Glasgow squad.

In their new blue and white uniforms the Ponies defeated the Bozeman Hawks for their first conference win.

Havre's Blue Ponies were edged out by the heavily favored Anaconda Copperheads in a heartbreaker that clouded the Ponies' hopes for State Championship.

The Butte Central Maroons came from behind in the closing minutes of the game to tie the Ponies. The Maroons went on to become the champs of the 1952 season.

One of the biggest crowds seen in the Havre stadium saw an injury-ridden Pony squad lead the heavy Great Falls Bisons' team 7-0 at the half time. In the second half the Bisons went on to win.

The Ponies coasted to victory against the Livingston Rangers in what turned out to be the last game of the season.

Anaconda Central was unable to field a team so it was necessary to forfeit to the Blue Ponies.

The Blue Ponies lost one conference game to give them third place in the Western Conference.

ENOCHSON CHOSEN FOR WIGWAM TEAM

Paul Enochson, the passing ace of Havre High, was chosen for honorable mention on the Wigwam Wiseman All-American team. Enochson sparked the offensive drive which brought the Ponies from a cellar rating to third place in the 1952 grid season. Playing in the quarterback slot, Paul sparked the team to tie the Butte Central Maroons who later went on to win the State Class A championship.

Enochson was one of the eight Montana stars selected for this All-American honor.

The Wigwam Wiseman picked 681 players for All-American choices out of the 2,155 seniors nominated in the sixth annual selection.

This was indeed an honor and H.H.S. wishes to congratulate Paul Enochson.

BERNARD ARMSTRONG
Junior, 160 lbs.

TOM RENAKER

DAVE DONTIGNY HONORED BY SCHOLASTIC COACH

Dave DonTigny, the Ponies' only two-year All-Stater, was chosen for honorable mention on the Scholastic Coach All-American team. Dave was one of the 430 boys given this honor of the 300,000 boys that play high school football each year. Dave played a great part in bringing the Ponies from the bottom of the league to one of the grid powers of the State the past two years.

Our school is mighty proud of Dave DonTigny and we extend our sincerest congratulations.

In she goes!

The hard fighting Colts found the season's opposition a bit too much for them. Two Colts—Kenny Livesay and Jim Wilkins, moved up into Pony ranks and played most the season with them. Harry Hyatt and Ed Boucher reached Pony ranks—a Colts goal—toward the end of the fray, while Con Elnes didn't remain there the full season.

Jack VanKoten, Don Johnson, Bob Stansberry, and Bob Gunderson are some of the boys to be watched next year. Although very small, Byron Knudsvig, handled himself well and played a great deal of ball for the Colts. Later in the season, Bud Shuman, another fine ball handler was added to the squad. One of the taller boys on the team, Tom Renaker, controlled the back boards. Watch Tom!

Mac Wylie, Bob Wanego, Tom Wynne, Alan Alex, Kenny Wattam, and Ralph McMillan are freshmen who saw action in the season's final games.

Ponies vs. Northern Lights

Thru the Hoop

The Blue Pony hoopsters started the season very solwly and could not get going until the end of the season, at which time they started to look good even in defeat. No less than eighteen boys wore Pony uniforms during the season, which was a big factor in slowing down the progress of the team. Unfortunately, the team lacked size, having only two men 6 feet tall and possessed just fair speed. Though the hoop was stationary, the Ponies had a difficult task of hitting it all year, which accounted for the Pony standing of 14th (tied with Great Falls) in the Conference, and a 22% team shooting average for the season. The Pony victory over Great Falls at the Electric City was the highlight of the season. Only two teams in the Big 16 were able to handle the Ponies with ease. They were the towering Helena Bengals and the Kalispell Braves.

Paul Enochson, the team captain, did a commendable job, though a sprained ankle kept him side-lined the last half of the season, which was a terrific blow to the team.

Dave and Don DonTigny played steady ball as did Leo Sohm along with Gaylord Jacobson and Kenny Livesay. Jim Wilkens and Harry Hyatt were moved to the Ponies toward the end of the season and both boys showed much promise. Ed Boucher, a Junior, finished the last three weeks with the team and he too added some spark that the boys needed all year.

Dick Wright, the pride of the junior athletes, finished his third year as a regular on the Ponies and the "jumping Kangaroo" was regarded by all that saw him play, as one of the best basketball players in the state. Dick's rebound work was phenomenal and his team play always outstanding.

In the Northern Divisional Tournament at Kalispell the Ponies were run down by the towering Helena Bengals, who later went on to win the State Championship with ease, and lost their second game to the Lewistown Eagles 61-63.

Though the Ponies did not win any championship they were good competitors and boys of which Havre High can always be proud.

Havre High Custodians

Magnor Peterson was born in Trumso, Norway, in 1881. As a young man of seventeen, he learned the trade of dyeing fabrics, at which he worked until 1914, when he left for America. Coming to Havre that same year, he began working for the Great Northern Railroad in the Bridge and Building Department. After seven years he left the railroad and took up carpentry in our city. In 1930, Mr. Peterson was employed as custodian of the Havre High gymnasium by School District 16. Here, after twenty-two years of praise-worthy service, we find him "Head Custodian and Engineer of the Havre Public Schools."

Despite ill health these later years, Magnor always takes time to listen to our requests and tries to understand our needs. His kindly smile and reassuring words—"Uh, huh, I'll take care of that"—have brought a sigh of relief to many an instructor, harassed by last-minute details of club or stage work. The students of Havre High have found Magnor sympathetic and helpful in their activities; his quick flashes of humor have endeared him to their hearts.

It is to him we have respectfully dedicated our 1953 Blue Pony Yearbook.

Music

All Aboard for Bellingham

The 1952-53 Band year will long be remembered by all its members as a year of big events, enthusiasm, and hard work.

The Band started backing the Blue Ponies right at the beginning of the school year with three marching exhibits entitled Cinderella, the Great Northern, and the Election. All through the year the pep band demonstrated its loyalty to the school by presenting a pep band at all basketball games and pep rallies.

Our band sponsored the Navy band this year, too. This was not only a money making project, but it brought famous talent to Havre.

The most flattering and truly the biggest event of the year was the invitation to the band to present a concert and appear at the band clinic at the Northwest Music Conference Convention to be held in Bellingham, Washington, March 18-21. After the Navy band left Havre our band began to realize it was possible to accept this invitation. Now we began a concentrated program for raising money, a series of concerts, food sales, rummage sales, concessions at games, a tag day, and individual contributions.

After all the whirlwind of preparation it was a great relief to finally be on our way. We left Havre March 16, aboard the Western Star at 4:15 a. m. We arrived at Everett at 6:28 a. m. the next day. Finally at 11:30 a. m. we arrived at Bellingham. After lunches and rehearsal we had time to relax a little and enjoy the wonderful climate of Washington. It was quite a change from the spring-like weather we left behind us in Montana. Wednesday was our big day. In the morning we gave a concert at Mount Baker High School after which we were the guests of Mount Baker's High School band for lunch. Back to Bellingham for our concert and the reading clinic at 5 p. m. The evening was a busy time too—a mixer was on the social calendar.

We left for home Thursday, stopped half a day in Seattle, some took a trip on the ferry while others shopped and saw the sights, big stores, and zoo.

Returning to Havre Friday, March 20, worn out and happy, we discovered it was really fun to be home again.

Other important events of the year were the Christmas Community Sing, and the Music Festival in Havre, and May 9, the Spring Music Festival held at Fairfield.

Thus the most successful year in the history of our Band came to a triumphant close.

A Cappella Choir

"ALL TOGETHER NOW—SING!"

High musical standards and the desire to do something for others through music are indeed worthwhile goals. For the past three years, under Mr. Mathsen's direction, the choir has been striving with these ideals in mind.

In December, the choir participated in the Annual Community Sing held in our gymnasium. The fall and spring concerts bring many parents and visitors to the auditorium to enjoy an evening of music. However, the main concerts, during the Christmas and Easter seasons, draw the largest crowds. And rightly so, for into them go intense preparation and the cooperation of several other departments.

Meet That Deadline!

Since signing the contract October 11, 1952, those three little words "meet that deadline" have controlled our lives. Until March an "unseen staff" worked quietly but effectively in our midst. Photographers photographed, copywriters wrote and the planners planned.

Came March 21 Very suddenly the smooth web of our lives was violently snarled into "deadline nights." Room 111 gave forth strange sounds — groans of agony, signifying reluctant thoughts struggling for expression; typewriters weary with sticking T's — scopes blind with their burned out bulbs — myriads of pictures that somehow wouldn't fit the page.

"Hand me that typewriter." . . . "Where is that picture?" . . . "Who took my ruler?" . . . "Think of a clever caption for this picture, can't you?" Such intelligently idiotic expressions filled the air as the deadline dawned.

Growing thoughtful for a moment, the staff acknowledges the helpful cooperation of other departments, namely the journalism staff, the athletic department, Thespians and those unselfish individuals who generously gave time and thought to our problems. Thanks for "patience under fire."

Contracts and checks flowed in as a brisk business staff scoured the town selling "ads" to down-town merchants. New signs and old appeared in the gym. Students in the halls were quietly separated from their $2.50 as the experienced salesmen, armed with receipt books, pushed advance yearbook sales. Long hours followed, baskets overflowing with discarded copy, successes and failures marked our daily progress.

Tension mounted almost to snapping intensity, broken only by the quick flash of witticism, or the quiet chuckle of hearty, joyful accomplishment that comes to the people who work out "impossible" situations together.

Thus it was that the 1953 staff met its deadline. To each and every member, we say, "Well done." Joyful accomplishment brings its own rewards.

Our emblem is the crest of our silver pin award designed by Ted Nimii in 1950. Ted was a four-year staff member and the winner of our first gold pin.

"See my new camera?" John asks Jim. JoAnn chuckles as HER NEW ANSCO goes into action.

F. H. A.

"I never knew dolls could be so much fun. Think I'll start a doll collection too," was a remark made by Kay as Mrs. Possenti was putting her dolls away after a monthly F.H.A. meeting. "I wonder what we'll have next month on the program? I hope it is something just as interesting."

This was just one of the visitors the Future Homemakers had throughout their year. Claire Vangelisti showed slides and told the girls of homemaking in Switzerland and Italy. The Singer Sewing Machine Co. and Montana Power Co. were also represented in these monthly meetings.

The purpose of F.H.A. is to promote better and happier homemaking, develop leadership, and further interest in Home Economics. This is an organization for girls who have completed at least one semester of Home Ec.

With both the district and state conventions held in Havre on October 11 and March 25, 26 and 27, respectively, the local chapter was kept busy. The projects completed this year by the girls were collecting food at Christmas time for needy families and sending patterns to Miss Glenne in Norway.

The officers this year were: President, Myrtle Flaskerud; Vice President, Josephine Barsanti; Secretary, Kay Thomas; Treasurer, Barbara Coday; Parliamentarian, Joanne Goligoski; Historian, Sharon Swanton; Song Leader, Doris Boucher; Reporter, Phyllis Deppmeier. Edith McMillan was chosen President of the District and Parliamentarian of the State. Advisor is Mrs. Meagher and other members include Emma Olson, Jane Warwick, Marjorie Black, Shirley Seyler, Gloria Sprague, Elaine Black, Ann Marie Gibson, Carol Maberry, Joan Lisoski, Rayna Greene, and Esther Golie.

G. A. L.

G.A.L. Leaders

Kick ball, tumbling, volley ball, or what'll you have? G.A.L. encourages high physical efficiency among high school girls, promote athletic and social activities, and fosters the highest ideals of sportsmanship, fellowship and conduct.

The tumbling team this year put on an exhibition during the half of the Great Falls-Havre game February 6, which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. The girls participating in this entertainment were Gail Olson, Kathy Langdon, Ann Gibson, Ardy Hamilton, Evelyn Finley, Beverly Warp, Janice Odermann, Shirley Haas, and Charlotte Green.

Kick ball also drew enthusiastic "gals" in the role of captains, Doris Thompson, Gail Olson, Lynn Brendgard and Evelyn Finley. Rated as an All-Star team we have Ardy Hamilton, Evelyn Finley, Carol Caldwell, Darlene Wattam, Kay Thomas, Lynn Brendgard, Gail Olson, Charlotte Green, and Shirley Finley.

"Service" — "Oh-oh, right into the net — that ties the game!" Laughs, groans, shrieks, thrills and spills rock the little gym as the teams compete for supremacy! In the final inventory we discover Shirley Finley, Gail Olson, Charlotte Green, Carol Overcast, Kay Thomas, and Evelyn Finley as volley ball captains.

Other members of the club include Betty Anshutz, Arlene Blue, Doris Boucher, Lynn Brendgard, Sharon Brown, Doreen Burchard, Mary Burchard, Lynne Davidson, Phyllis Deppmeier, Dolores Dolan, Donna Estell, Rayna Greene, Carol Hatler, Kathy Henderson, Doris Harriman, Minnie Hannicher, Carol Kato, JoAnn Kezar, Rose Kibbee, Carol Maberry, Ellen McFadden, Carol Overcast, Marian Nault, Patty Nivens, Jane Schumacher, Molly Jo Shaffer, Barbara Seel, Maureen Smith, Betty Jo Solom, Carol Sorenkson, Gloria Sprague, Shirley Seyler, Lolly Thompson, Adeline Wiederrick, Barbara Williams, and Sharon Winkenweder.

COACH SEELINGER

The "H" club is the oldest club of H.H.S. and it has been active as long as letters have been awarded. To be a member of "H" club a boy must win a letter in either football or basketball, or he may earn his letter as a manager. Members must obey the rules of the club, one being that no boy may wear more service stripes than letters earned.

"H" club wasn't really an organized club until 1937, but since then it has been one of the most active clubs in H.H.S. By selling ice cream bars at games and throughout the Tourney last year, the "H" club purchased warm-up jackets for the team. Next year they plan on buying practice pants for football.

The Key Club of Havre High School is a service organization whose ideal is to improve the school and community and if possible to provide vocational guidance. The Key Club is a school-sponsored club but it is backed by the Kiwanis Club of Havre.

Each year the club holds state and national conventions at which officers are elected. This year the club sponsored the Pony-Faculty basketball game, helped the Red Cross at the Crippled Children's Clinic in the Masonic Building and planned a talent contest for all of the clubs.

Club members raised funds by selling "hot dogs" at the basketball games and sponsoring the matinee performance of the Virginia Players last fall.

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of this society to which I have been elected, striving in every way by word and deed to make its ideals the ideals of my school." This is a part of the pledge which new members of the National Honor Society repeat upon being accepted into the society.

The faculty selects the members according to their (1) Character, which must be strong, dependable, and lasting if society is to endure; (2) Service, whether great or small to help to improve the world; (3) Leadership, which will influence either for good or for bad some group of their associates; and (4) Scholarship, which indicates that education is the one investment in life that is always profitable.

Not more than 15 per cent of a senior class, and 5 per cent of a junior class may be elected for the society.

The newly elected seniors for this year were Myrtle Flaskerud, Rosemary Grams, Barbara Ryan, Evelyn Nivens, and Mary Wells. The juniors are Joan Griffin, Mary Travis, Barbara Coday, and Phyllis Porter. Juniors elected last year were Kinnison Thomas, JoAnn Larson, Edith McMillan, and Roberta Lucke.

This fall before the Great Falls football game, the Pep Club sponsored a snake dance to the football field where the students gathered about a roaring bonfire.

The largest pep rally of the year was held February 5. A caravan of cars, driven by high school students, slowly paraded through town. To climax the rally, enthusiasm was shown by the cheerleaders and students in several yells.

An assembly skit entitled "Grandma Is Sick" featured Evelyn Finley as Grandma, Carol Overcast as Mrs. Hawkins, Caroline Becker as Greta, and Elaine Black as Alice. Aldene Bostic directed this little skit which left the audience convinced that "a good basketball game can cure anything, even Grandma's illness."

THE SPURS

ON THE STEPS

Spur Club has been one, if not the most active service club of the year, and has been going strong for nearly twenty years. It was organized in October, 1934, to promote school spirit, school activities, and to furnish entertainment for students.

The members, who consist of Juniors and Seniors, are chosen on the basis of leadership, citizenship, scholarship, and character. Eight boys and eight girls are chosen in the spring of the year from the Sophomore class.

The Spur Club has always decorated the Christmas tree in the main hall of the high school. At basketball games the boys patrol, while at concerts and plays both boys and girls act as ushers. The proceeds of the charity dance at Christmas time go to the Salvation Army.

The members are as follows, Seniors: Paul Enochson, Harvey Erickson, Anthony Filicetti, Charles Leonard, Jim McCauley, Maurice Laundry, Leo Sohm, John Thomas, Kinny Thomas, Florence Creamer, Vivien Knudsvig, JoAnn Larson, Carole Lindelow, Edith McMillan, Evelyn Nivens, Barbara Ryan, Besse Moran. Juniors: Earl Allison, Bob Gunderson, Gaylord Jacobson, Kenneth Livesay, Leslie Pearson, Alan Ryan, Bernard Armstrong, Don Manuel, Aldene Bostic, Carol Caldwell, Barbara Coday, Joan Griffin, Louise Mangels, Mary Travis, Beverly Warp, and Darlene Wattam.

The officers are: President, Evelyn Nivens; Vice President, Leo Sohm; Secretary-Treasurer, JoAnn Larson; Point Chairman, Besse Moran; and Sponsor, Mrs. Van Gorden.

Student Council

A dream becomes a reality—with a true feeling of accomplishment the Student Council this year distributed to our students the "Handbook of Havre High School," a 3½" by 5", forty-six page, blue booklet, teeming with enlightenment. Within its pages are found such information as the general rules and regulations of high school, honors and awards, scholarships, the Student Council constitution, school yells, registration procedure, courses offered in Havre High, and requirements for graduation.

Monday p. m.—November 24, saw an influx of students into Havre's civic offices. Duly elected students took over water, fire, and sewage disposal departments, invaded the mayor's office, met with the city council, and in general "ran the city of Havre for the day."

Efficient student government demands industrious and experienced leaders; serving the council this year in the capacity of President, we have Kinnison Thomas, with Vice President Bob Gunderson, and Secretary Louise Mangels.

The Student Council itself is made up of one student chosen from each advisory and meets every Monday morning, with Bill Greene, Jim McCauley, Shirley Pfiefer, and Frankie Weyh as representatives from the Senior class. The Junior class is represented by Merrill Garrett, Carol Caldwell, and Marilyn Dickson, while the Sophomores have Myrna Wright, Florence Kampf, Bob Stansberry, and Sue Williams as their choice. Freshman class representatives are Ann Marie Gibson, Carol Sorensen, Louanne Snyder, and Ellen Cool.

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized April 10, 1926, by a group of high school advisors for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and allied fields. The Society has always taken an active part in raising standards in its field and in directing the course of high school journalism.

According to the constitution, members of Quill and Scroll must be chosen from the students enrolled in high school who at the time of their election meet the following requirements: (1) They must be of at least junior standing. (2) They must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing at the time of their election. (3) They must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor. (4) They must be recommended by the advisor or by the committee governing publications. (5) They must be approved by the executive secretary.

Eleven H.H.S. students were initiated into Quill and Scroll February 23 before the members of the P.T.A. Those initiated were Edith McMillan, Mary Wells, Florence Creamer, JoAnn Larson, John Thomas, Roberta Lucke, Myrtle Flaskerud, Barbara Coday, Shirley Underwood, Charles Vick, and Barbara Ryan. The ceremony was conducted by Miss Doris Slaaten who presented the new members with pins.

The name "Stampede" was suggested by Bryan Barickman, 1915, in the memory of the annual Stampede held years ago in Havre by Long George and Jack Melbe, pioneer stockmen.

The editor of the Stampede is chosen by the journalism advisor and the English teachers. The person chosen is awarded a $25 scholarship to attend Publications Pow Wow at Montana State University. This is a training camp for high school journalists. As a project they have a chance to put out one issue of the weekly University paper. Last year the Stampede sent two delegates to the Pow Wow.

During Interscholastic Week the Stampede sends two delegates to Missoula. Also four consecutive issues are sent to be rated by the M.I.E.A., the ratings being All-State, Superior, Good, and Fair. Sixteen issues were printed this year.

This year the Stampede joined the National Scholastic Press Association. The Stampede is also a member of the Montana Interscholastic Editorial Association.

The staff changed hands somewhat during the second semester as indicated in the masthead; this was done to give students more experience in different fields of journalism.

After finishing our project of selling ads for football and basketball programs, the Thespian Troupe began an active year of play producing, which enabled many students to earn points toward Thespian membership. Freshmen were introduced to the various school clubs through an activities assembly written and produced by Thespians in September. During December and February, one-act plays were produced by members. We sponsored the annual One-Act Play Festival with even more than our usual success. The comedy "This Way to Heaven" was chosen by a group of local judges to represent Havre High at Montana's Interscholastic Meet. Best actor and actress medals were awarded to Tim Robins and Barbara Coday for their performances in the winning play.

Two formal initiations were held during each year, a December tea and a banquet in the spring. In December of this year, Gene Baker, Aldene Bostic, Paul Bucalstein, Conrad Elnes, Merrill Garrett, Joan Griffin, Roberta Lucke, and Charles Vick were initiated, bringing the total troupe membership to nineteen.

Thespians Prove Playwright Ability In Activities Assembly

JoAnn Larson, president of Thespian Troupe No. 869, introduced the annual activities skit, October 10, in the high school auditorium.

A pepless, spiritless, and downhearted freshman, Pete Baker, taking his troubles to Dr. Thomas, who was characterized by Kinnison Thomas, proved to be a catchy theme. Dr. Thomas diagnosed the patient and then proceeded to show a movie on the various activities. Each organization was represented by a comical skit and a serious description.

"H" club found John Lawson telling Jim McCauley how badly he wanted to sell Cheerios. Roberta Lucke explained that one must have pull with the teachers, strain eyesight to see the other fellow's paper, stay out late, and cram for exams to belong to the National Honor Society.

What four years of F.H.A. can do to improve one's grooming was demonstrated by Janet Kennedy and Bud Nordgulen.

The whole family wants Steve Thomas to help with their respective chores when Steve tells them he has been elected to Key club, which is a service organization. The family consisted of mother, Darlene Wattam; father, Conrad Elnes; sister Amy, Marjorie Kampf.

Sharon Winkenweder, who claimed she was an athlete because she belonged to G.A.L., insisted on taking tumbling lessons from Merrill Garrett, who was very much perturbed.

Reporting is one of the main phases of work on the Stampede. Phil Eaves shows how it shouldn't be done by interviewing the "big wheel," Charles Vick.

For the musical department, the boys' octet, composed of Fred Baker, Danny Boone, and Jimmy Hinds, sang "Rollin' Down to Jordan."

Tim Robbins was the villain in the Annual skit, who threatened to print a picture in the Annual of a girl if she would not consent to marry him.

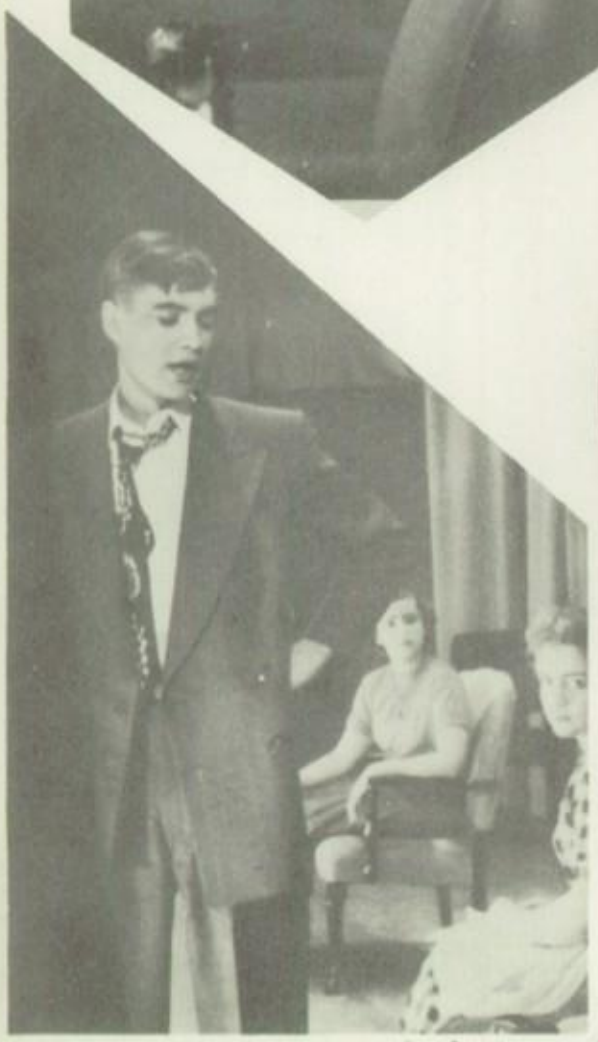
The familiar scene in Romeo and Juliet was put in comedy form with Kenneth Livesay and Barbara Coday in the respective parts. Wayne Olson, the coach, caught Kenneth in the act of making love to Barbara.

Selling basketball season tickets is one project of the Spur club. Mary Travis and Evelyn Nivens were forced out into the cold while a hand threw snow on them, to sell the one remaining ticket.

Pep club was represented by the cheerleaders, who led the audience in several yells.

This assembly program was written and directed by the Thespians. It was a job well done.

"He doesn't have the I.Q. of a moron."



"Those old classes simply bore me to tears."

"Wilbur-Mae, that's not in the least lady-like."

Mr. Maxwell is bemoaning his fate when Mr. Jones, his guardian angel, drops in to announce that his wish is granted. In this play Harriet, wife of the wealthy and successful Charles, and Margaret, wife of the struggling young artist, John, represent the civilized and socially acceptable behavior of women today. Hetty and Maggie portray the primitive and unrepressed natural instincts of each woman. During the course of an afternoon tea, both women use their "civilized" methods to obtain their goals, which are identical.

Into the inviting, holiday-scented kitchen of lovely old Gram Wilson, a charming, likeable but somewhat mysterious gentleman appears, eager to rent the room vacated by grand-daughter June, about to leave for a honeymoon with Charley Baker. Identifying himself as Mr. Flannigan, the mysterious guest is in ecstasy over Gram's cooking—which approaches genius—and with flattery, guileless charm and an un-earthly magnetism, he is accepted into the family group completely, his peculiarities being explained away by June as part of his profession—a magician. Finally, left alone with Gram, his intentions become comically alarming as he awkwardly attempts, egged on by a domineering, unseen power, to do away with the old lady. After a fumbling and hilarious wrestle with his conscience, he admits that he is from heaven—or just this side of it—and that he has come to take Gram back up there to cook for his section in order to earn his wings. However, a surprise ending sends him scooting back where he came from—subject to severe disciplinary action—and leaves Gram happily contemplating the day when she'll see him again.

Jacob Comes Home

STUDENT DIRECTOR, MARY TRAVIS

Liese Braun	Rayna Greene
Magda, her mother	Doris Thompson
Joseph, her grandfather	Kinnison Thomas
Hulda, Magda's sister	Lynn Decker
Rudolpf, Jacob's friend	Wayne Olson

In a home in Berlin, a Jewish family fearfully await the return of their Jacob from a Nazi prison. They talk of how they shall greet him. They will sing—, but softly so that "they" won't think that they are too happy. They talk of how he will look and what they will say to him. The tenseness is almost unbearable as they listen to the steps coming up the stairs . . . but a strange man stands there, asking stern questions, and delivering a small parcel—the ashes of Magda's husband. "Jacob HAS come home."

"The flesh remembers and cries out in pain, even here—even here."

"Sixty more seconds and we shall hear his step—"

CAST AND STUDENT DIRECTOR

"Softer Rudolf—they are coming toward the house."

Last Flight Over

"Look it them geese still flying—bet its the last of 'em tho."

Worked to death—October 27, 1867.

Transformation!

They's things to be built here, same as back East.

Curtain Call for the three "one—acts"

Seventeen year old Dave rebels at the hard-won existence which has brought his mother to her early death—and he blames Pa, who thinks only of fences and hard work.

From the doorway, Dave sees the last geese flying south, and he resolves to leave with the neighbors on the next farm, who are starting for Illinois that very day. But before he can get away, Pa returns from the field, and there is a angry quarrel. Then, relenting, Pa pleads for a little understanding; "Every time I drove in a post, I wanted to yell, cuz I was puttin' that much over on the prairie." Dave catches a vision from his father's earnest feeling—and the neighbors leave without him.

Home Sweet Homicide

"HOME SWEET HOMICIDE," a play consisting of three acts and six scenes was given by the Junior class in the afternoon of November 6 and in the evening of November 7.

Three young people were involved as witnesses to a murder which they tried to solve to gain recognition for their widowed mother who was a mystery writer. To add comedy, the three youths try to marry her to a detective assigned to the case.

In the end the mystery is solved and the youths get their way when their mother promises to marry the detective.

Curtain Call

"Oh, Archie, you're super-duper."
